

DETROIT OPERA HOUSE

For Immediate Release

CONTACTS: Erica Hobbs
Michigan Opera Theatre
(313) 237-3403
ehobbs@motopera.org

"Too Hot To Handel" Returns to the Detroit Opera House for 18th Annual Performance

Holiday Tradition Features Jazz-Gospel Version of Handel's "Messiah"

Dec. 14 at the Detroit Opera House

DETROIT, Dec. 4, 2019 - Rackham Choir and the Detroit Opera House are proud to return to the Detroit Opera House stage Saturday, Dec. 14 for the 18th annual performance of "Too Hot To Handel". Hailed as the holiday celebration that is "too hot to miss," this jazz-gospel version of Handel's classic "Messiah" has become a tradition for the Motor City, combining decidedly Detroit-inspired styles such as jazz and gospel while weaving in blues, swing, classical and scat. The Opera House pulses with music and the true spirit of the holidays as more than 120 musicians fill the stage and share a soul-stirring experience with the audience!

"'Too Hot to Handel' is a beloved Detroit tradition rooted in the music and soul the city is known for," said Rackham Choir Artistic Director Suzanne Mallare Acton. "It's a great experience for the whole family and a great way to get into the holiday spirit."

"Too Hot" is conducted by Acton and features Rackham Choir, tenor Rodrick Dixon, soprano Alfreda Burke and alto Karen Marie Richardson. They are joined by the Too Hot Trio, Marion Hayden, Alvin Waddles and Dave Taylor, as well as a full roster of some of Detroit's best jazz musicians including Chris Collins, Al Ayoub, Fred Hughes, James Simonson, Vincent Chandler, Rick Wolkins and James Hughes. Members of the Michigan Opera Theatre Orchestra complete the "Too Hot Orchestra."

Acton and select performers will be giving a special pre-show talk at the Detroit Opera House beginning at 6:30 p.m., one hour before the performance.

DETROIT OPERA HOUSE

In addition to the main performance, Rackham and the Opera House are offering discounted tickets to students and seniors to watch the dress rehearsal at 11 a.m. Friday, Dec. 13.

Ticket prices for the main performance start at $33 and may be purchased online at www.MichiganOpera.org, by calling (313) 237-7464 or in person at the Detroit Opera House (1526 Broadway, Detroit). Dress rehearsal tickets are available to local student and senior groups. Tickets purchased in advance for the dress rehearsal start at $10 for students K-12, $20 for college students, and $25 for adults in groups of 10 or more. Dress rehearsal tickets at the door are $35. For more information visit <http://www.michiganopera.org/events/too-hot-to-handel/>.

This production is made possible by Ascension Michigan, Friends of Too Hot To Handel, the DeRoy Testamentary Foundation, The Kresge Foundation, the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs, the National Endowment for the Arts, the Community Foundation for Southeast Michigan, the DTE Foundation, the Detroit Public Schools Foundation and Jo-Ann MacWilliams-Wolf WMS, AIF, Senior Vice President, Investments; Andrea Kotch Duda CFP, Senior Vice President, Investments; and Kelly M. Petrocella CFP, CDFA, Associate Vice President, Investments, from Raymond James.

###

About Rackham Choir

Since 1949, Rackham Choir has provided both classical and contemporary choral masterpieces of the highest artistic quality to audiences throughout Southeast Michigan. Under the visionary leadership of critically-acclaimed conductor Suzanne Mallare Acton, the choir has expanded its rich tradition of musical performance. Acton also serves as Chorus Master for Michigan Opera Theatre and Director of the MOT Children's Chorus. Information about Rackham Choir, including the complete season schedule, is available at www.rackhamchoir.org.